

adding -er and -est to adjectives

Training Camp

A 'Let's Read Together!' Book

Kit was looking at the cards from his comic about super people with magic powers. He thought it would be fun to join them at their training camp so he got the magic book.

Kit and Sam got to the super training camp. It was a lot quieter than Kit and Sam thought it was going to be.

Suddenly, a sound came over the loudspeaker. It was time for the next lesson!

At first, Kit and Sam hid, but then they put on masks and capes and joined in with the orb training. When they lifted their arms, the orb went higher too. It was the coolest thing they had ever seen!

After the training, it was time for an energy boost. Everyone went into a glass room where there was a lot of sunlight. The super people got their energy from the sun. It was the quickest way to boost their powers.

Back in the training room, there was a loud sound as Cheetman ran past! Kit and Sam thought he was the fastest person they had ever seen! He was faster than a cheetah.

Kit and Sam were astonished at how fast they could run, too.

After some extra training, the loudspeaker said it was time for a rest. They were glad it was time to stop. It had been the longest day! They used the magic book to take them back home.

Training Camp

Join Kit and Sam at the training camp.

Supports teaching:
Twinkl Phonics Level 5 Week 24